Why is it important to have healthy snacks?

People who have a habit of snacking have a balanced blood sugar level. They do not feel hungry during the day and thus their food intake decreases without them noticing. Snacks, by providing less food consumption in the next main meals, balance daily calorie intake and help to maintain body weight.

Dried Fruit for a Snack

Dried fruits contain 3-4 times more fiber, vitamins, and minerals than fresh fruits. They also protect the digestive system and gut health. Dried fruits are nutritious, fiber, and antioxidant stores. The polyphenols present in abundance facilitate digestion, improve blood flow, and reduce oxidative stress.
